Treasurer's Report: No official treasurer's report tonight, just updates read from emails.

Summary of ice racing topics:

- Daily costs for ice racing are about $800 per day (insurance, plowing, etc.)
- Per Dave Burke: Circle track guys estimate 8-10 drivers in their own class if entry fees are in the $50-$75 range
- We have 5 events on the schedule (1/22, 2/5, and 2/12-13 at Big Lake, 3/5 at Wasilla Lake)
- If season operating costs are covered, there could be prize money payouts
- This will be a 5-race championship season
- Entry fees are set at $60 per day
- ASCC Membership is required for ASCC studded or super-stud cars
 - o No membership required for Rubber to Ice class, or Circle Track class
- Circle Track Studded class:
 - o Open to cars that are legal for the circle tracks at Willow and Northstar
 - o It is up to the racers to make and enforce their own preparation rules
- Rubber to Ice class will not be limited to unmodified cars

ASCC / Alaska Sports Car Lions Club

- If 2 clubs run ice racing, both clubs would need insurance. Lions are covered automatically, but ASCC would need to purchase it.
- For long-term stability and cost control, it makes sense that they become just one club.
- This will be a major topic at the Annual Meeting in April.

Nominating committee for Annual Meeting:

- No volunteers, so TJ said he'll find people to volunteer.

2011 Calendar

- Amanda Moore has been updating it, and will continue to do so.

Arizona Shootings:

- TJ asked if there's anything we can/should do as a Lions Club for the victims
- Lion Lou advised that other clubs and agencies are handling their personal needs, and to simply keep them in your hearts and thoughts.

Guiding Lions:

- January 22 from 5-8pm, the Mountain View Lions will be having a chili feed fundraiser. $5 per person, or a stuffed animal to get in.
- January 29 at 5pm, the Mountain View Lions will be hosting the awards banquet for the 2010 autocross series. They'll have autocross awards, a prime rib dinner, door prizes, and a split-the-pot.
- February 26: Lions Cabinet meeting in Eagle River. This is a good chance to learn what the other Lions Clubs are doing.
- Brief discussion of 501-3C status – it's a lot of work, and our club isn't ready yet.

ASCC Club Car:

- Car will be available at all ice race events this winter. Cost TBD, but somewhere around $40 per heat.

ASCC Annual Meeting:

- April 9, 5pm, at Gallo's on Old Seward

Next Club meeting:

- Feb 8, 7-9pm at AMVets/Post 49, on Old Seward, in the strip mall just south of Sports Authority.
 - o Dinner is $7 per person

Adjourned at 8:25pm (TJ, 2nd: DeRivera)
